

Language Ambassadors

Profile

CHRIS LIEBERT

Occupation: Licensing Team Lead, Commercial Management/Sales within IT

Company: Microsoft

Degree/University: Business Studies (Hons), University of Buckingham

Languages spoken (native and learned): English, Dutch, French, German, Japanese

“Learning languages has opened so many doors for me, both socially and in business. It has caused me to have a tremendously exciting career so far and has certainly had influence over my earning potential.”

Web:

www.microsoft.com/uk

Email:

ambassadors@soton.ac.uk

“When I travel to places, even if I do not speak the language, I feel much more at home. Where I do speak the language, it is a tremendous help to really understand a country and its people. I have made great relationships with different people around the world because I speak foreign languages. I have a network such that I am never alone in a foreign city! On holidays, I can meet lots of people and get on with them much quicker because I speak more than one language. In business, I have been specifically hired for high paying jobs because of my language ability. Being able to build solid business relationships in numerous countries has made my working life very diverse and great fun. I encourage everyone to learn at least one foreign language, go to that country, eat, sleep and breathe that language and you will unlock a new world for you.”